Middlesex Gases & Technologies Now Preferred Vendor for MassBio

September 25, 2017, Everett, Massachusetts... Middlesex Gases & Technologies, Inc. is proud to announce they are now the primary supplier of packaged gases and related equipment for the MassBio Purchasing Consortium.

"With over 68 years in the industry and 30 years supplying the Life Science Market, we are confident we can provide the service and support that MassBio members need and deserve. We truly value the work and the contribution that MassBio members make to our community and this partnership allows us to show our appreciation with excellent service, support, and savings," said Ron Perry, Director of Sales & Marketing for Middlesex Gases & Technologies Inc. "With the recent expansion of our specialty gas laboratory, Middlesex will be able to offer members a greater variety of specialty gas mixtures and high purity gases to fit their everyday needs."

"All of us at MassBio are thrilled to partner with such a reputable Massachusetts-based, family-owned business and to bring even more value to our member companies through the Purchasing Consortium, which saves members over $40 million each year," said Robert Coughlin, President & CEO of MassBio. "MassBio is committed to helping the industry find new efficiencies and cut costs, and we could not do so without the support of our vendors."
